What does the school need to do to improve further?

In order to continue to move forward, the school should consider the following:

- Ensure all pupils, but particularly the most able, are given regular opportunities and sufficient time to demonstrate their understanding in RE to a greater depth.
- Ensure the outcomes from the monitoring carried out in RE is shared with the governing body in order to enable them to better fulfil their role in holding the school to account in relation to RE and its Catholic life.

Full Report

The school as a Catholic community

The school community:	Outstanding
The wider community:	Outstanding

- The moment you enter St Joseph's you are aware that you are joining a strong Christian community where its mission statement is lived out on a daily basis. The school has a calm and welcoming atmosphere. Relationships within the school community are strong and children respond openly and with confidence. Throughout the school there is clear evidence of its Catholic nature.
- There are very good systems of communication, ensuring all stakeholders are well-informed and regularly updated. The school's website and fortnightly newsletter reflect the importance placed on the Catholic life of the school.
- A very strong partnership exists between the school and local parish. The parish priest is a fervent supporter of the school and is a regular and welcomed visitor. He sees the school as pivotal to the life of the parish. A key feature is the attendance at a weekday mass by a small number of pupils. This is followed by joining parishioners for a soup lunch. This is greatly valued by parishioners and the school community.
- The school is keen to give Christian witness in the local area, for example, supporting the suggestion to move the annual Carol Service outside the church in order to involve the local community in the celebration.
- St Joseph's is an active member of the local partnership of Catholic schools. The headteacher is currently acting as executive headteacher for another Catholic primary school, and the RE leader is also supporting the school - joint staff training and sharing of expertise are positive outcomes of this partnership. Links with other Catholic schools, particularly St Margaret Clitherow Catholic Primary School, are also strong and mutually supportive.
- Pupils in the school, particularly the Mini-Vinnies, recognise the importance of reaching out to those in need. Adults are also aware of their Christian responsibility to support others, particularly those in difficulty in their own community and do this quietly and sensitively, often in partnership with the local parish.
- The embedding of Catholic Social Teaching is evident and the school has plans to take this further. It is currently working towards the first level of the Oscar Romero Award.

Curriculum religious education

Attainment and progress:	Outstanding
Quality of teaching:	Outstanding
Leadership and management of RE:	Outstanding

- The evidence in pupils' books, the quality of teaching, the high levels of achievement and discussions with pupils all combine to show that attainment, progress and teaching in RE are outstanding. To ensure this is fully secure, the school needs to enable all pupils, but particularly the most able, to demonstrate their understanding in RE to a greater depth.
- On the day of the validation children demonstrated high levels of subject knowledge and familiarity with the organisation of the Bible. Some were able to reflect at greater depth on the meaning for themselves or others in the passage being studied.
- Planning is comprehensive and has a clear RE focus. Regular setting of homework for RE effectively supplements the class work. Feedback and marking in RE is in line with the school's policy and is effective in deepening children's learning.
- Pupils demonstrated a very positive attitude to learning in the lessons observed. A pupil survey show they have a high regard for RE.
- Teaching assistants play a key role in helping all pupils access the curriculum.

- Pupils are taught respectfully about the key features of other faiths, particularly their similarities with Christianity. Members of the community from other faiths are invited to share their experiences and practice with the children.
- The RE leader's passion and drive underpin her very good support for all staff, enabling them to deliver RE lessons with confidence and enthusiasm.
- The RE leader and the headteacher regularly monitor RE, through observations of teaching, pupil conferencing and work sampling. Outcomes of this monitoring would benefit from a greater focus on the quality of learning seen and the support needed to improve outcomes further. These to then be shared with the governing body in order to enable them to better fulfil their role in holding the school to account in relation to RE and its Catholic life.

Spiritual and moral development

Spiritual development:

Outstanding

Moral development:

Outstanding

- The school provides a wide range of high-quality worship, which allows individual and collective members of the school community to express their relationship with one another and with God, in a reflective and prayerful manner. The school embraces every opportunity to nurture spirituality, these include:
 - The range of celebrations linked to the liturgical year.
 - Regular celebration of the Eucharist both within the school and the local parish.
 - The internal and external 'prayer stops' maintained by the Mini-Vinnies.
 - The joint retreats held with St Margaret Clitherow Catholic Primary School.
- In all classes children take on various roles within class worship. By the time they reach upper key stage two, pupils are regularly planning and leading their peers in class worship, with the house captains doing this for the whole school.
- On the day of the validation outstanding practice seen included the reverent attitude of the pupils, a clear focus on scripture and the involvement of those participating.
- The children in the school demonstrate outstanding behaviour and Christian attitudes in their relationships, with a clear sense of right and wrong. Key factors promoting this include:
 - The outstanding role models provided by the staff and older children in the school.
 - The opportunities to consider their role as global citizens and their Christian responsibility to be stewards of God's Creation.
 - The consistent reinforcement of Gospel values and their application in helping children make the right choice. The school's reward system, for example, the weekly awarding of the gold tie, is linked to the school's mission statement. A child explained, 'The gold tie is for behaviour that brings you and others closer to God.'
- The children take on a variety of leadership roles, for example, house captains, Mini-Vinnies, welcome monitors, and buddies to younger children, and through these provide very good role models to the other pupils in the school.

Leadership and management:

Outstanding

- The headteacher's leadership impacts positively on all aspects of the life of this highly successful school and outstanding faith community.
- Within the school, and across all levels of leadership, including governance, there is a constant drive for improvement and insistence on high standards in all areas.
- Although the school complies with the requirements of the diocesan self-review process, the quality and detail of the reporting around RE and the Catholic life of the school needs improving; this will enable governors to better fulfil their role in holding the school to account in these core aspects of a Catholic school.
- Good progress has been made on the issues identified for improvement in the last validation, particularly in extending children's understanding of the wider world.
